THE CELEBRATION.

A Grand Success in Every Particular—Hundreds of People Here From a Distance.

As early as the first of last week people began to arrive in Safford for the celebration of our National holiday. Visitors were here from Clifton, Morenci, Globe, San Carlos, Bonita, Grant, Bowie, Wilcox and Tucson, besides large numbers from every town in the valley.

The morning salute was fired just at day light.

At about 9:30 Marshal of the Day Fonda had the procession ready to start. It was headed by Sheriff Birchfield, Under Sheriff Olney, Jack O'Niel, Homer Deboise, Milton Morris and the Marshal of the Day, all on horseback, followed by the band. They were followed by the float occupied by the Goddes of Liberty, surrounded by thirteen maids, representing the thirteen original colonies. This float, bearing its lovely burden made a beautiful picture. Following this was a minature court house, lashed onto a burro, led by a boy, mounted on another burro, the appearance of which created considerable merriment among the spectators. Then came a handsomely decorated float occupied by members of the Good Templer's lodge, followed by an artistic float constructed by Messrs. Fonda, Nelson and Jennings, in which their families rode. Behind this came a mixed procession nearly half a mile in length.

At 10:30 the arbor was filled and the literary exercises commenced.

The National airs sung by the choir were beautiful and Dr. Adams delivered an oration which touched a patriotic chord in the breast of everyone present. The program was interspersed with music from the martial band. J. R. Lassator gave a negro oration which created a great deal of fun. The exercises closed with a wand drill by a number of young girls, beautifully dressed, led by Miss Kate Hunter and under the training of Misses Maud and Laura Kemp.

First on the program was the bicycle race won by Jack Keasley. The first prize in the free for all race was won by a horse owned by Frank Paxton, the other two horses being a tie the second money was divided.

First prize in the saddle horse race was won by Jesus Ascavada's horse, second prize going to Jack Freeman. First prize in the tournament contest was won by Will McClintock, second money going to Will Freeman.

The lawn tennis game, which was a very interesting portion of the program, was won by Messrs. Jones and Holliday, of Geronimo.

The day's program closed with a bicycle parade. About 24 ladies and gentlemen mounted on wheels, dressed in bicycle costumes, paraded about three quarters of an hour. This parade would have been better had not the crowd been so large that there was not room in the streets to make the figures necessary for its entire success.

In the evening a ball was given in Owen's new store, the attendance being very large.

The crowd here on the Fourth was equal if not in excess of that last year, and the celebration was a success in every particular.

A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by all dealers in medicine. *

Having heard of the elegant apparatus received by Dr. Lindley, we called at his well equiped office and were more than surprised to see an office such as is seen in the city. Everything necessary for the treatment of all diseases of which the human flesh is liable to become afflicted. His CATARRH outfit is the finest that we ever seen. EDWARDS—TEVIS.

A Brilliant Wedding at Bowie on Wednesday of Last Week.

We are indebted to Mrs. Sloan Clark, of Bowie Station, for the following description of the Edwards—Tevis wedding:

"Last Wednesday evening at 8:30 a quiet and pretty wedding took place at the residence of Capt. J. H. Tevis, in Bowie. The contracting parties were Mr. Wm. W. Edwards, of Geronimo, and Miss Lettie Tevis, of Bowie. In spite of the threatening weather, the clouds cleared away leaving the heavens bright with stars which shone down on the beautiful lawn decorated with China lanterns. Suspended from the two natural Umbrella trees was a marriage bell of rare flowers. The Rev. F. W. Downs, of Safford, stood on nature's green banks under a canopy of flowers, awaiting the coming of the bride and groom, who were led by two little tots, Hattie Waugh and Ethal Boyers, in white, carrying baskets of flowers which were strewn on the way and listening to the sweet strains of Mendelsshon's wedding march played by Miss Lillie Winbigler, of Tucson. Following the pages came best man, Mr. B. Jones, and maid of honor, Miss Ida Howell, of Tucson, handsomely attired in whtte India silk, carrying a bouquet of pink vonvardinas. Then came the bride on the arm of Mr. Edwards. She looked charming in her white silk mull trimmed with lace and long veil, carrying in her hand a bouquet of white vonvardinas and maiden-hair ferns from California.

After the ceremony, which was pronounced by Rev. Downs, and congratulations of their friends the happy couple led the way to refreshments, which were served in the dinning room, decorated for the occasion. Two long tables laden with ices and fruit satisfied all. Then dancing, enjoyed to the usual good music by Kelsey Bros., assisted later on by Mr. Wilds.

Many costly presents from far and near were received.

The happy bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards took the morning train to their future home in Geronimo."

The Committee's Action.

A dispatch from Phœnix, relative to the meeting held last week in Phœnix, of the Executive Committee of the Territorial Republican Committee, says that it was called by the interests antagonistic to M. H. McCord in his aspirations for the governorship of Arizona. Ten of the twelve members were represented, anti McCord men being in the majority. Pierce Evans, of Maricopa county was elected acting chairman of the committee, and all his acts heretofore in that capacity were ratified. The action put a stamp of approval on Evan's action in telegraphing the President that the Territorial Committee stood ready to recommend a new candidate for Governor in the event of McCord being turned down in the Senate. A motion to endorse the candidacy of McCord was voted down, and a resolution was finally passed, after much amendment, requesting that in the event of the failure of the Senate to endorse McCord, the President is recommended to appoint the best equipped and most acceptable candidate for the position as it appears by endorsements now on file in Washington.

From the full proceedings, we would say that the committee is in about the same condition that the old lady was when her husband was fighting with a bear: She charged each alternately, "Go it husband! Go it bear!" And almost exhausted from laughter, remarked that she never saw a fight in her life where she cared so little which whipped, so the bear did."

"There's no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Cygne, Kas., "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market.' The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by all dealers in medicine*

Only $5.00 a month will be Dr. Register's charge for his new Discovery in the treatment of Diseases of women and Catarrh, money refunded if good results are not produced. Can be used at home, by patients themselves. Call on Dr. Register at Safford Drug Store or Groesbeck Hotel 6-5-tf.

Pima is preparing for a big celebration on the 24th. The full program will appear in the GUARDIAN next week.

TOMBSTONE KILLING.

"Vengeance is Mine Saith the Lord, And Him Will I Repay.

Once more has Tombstone asserted herself as a sensation producer. This time the sensation involved another human life. W. C. Green shot and killed James C. Burnett on Allen street.

Last Saturday afternoon about one o'clock the usual quiet of the city was disturbed by the report of a shot followed by three more, apparently in the same direction on Allen street.

A Prospector reporter was on the ground within a few seconds and in the midst of a crowd of excited spectators lay the body of James C. Burnett face downward, in a pool of blood. When the body was turned over, the last heaving of the lungs caused gouts of blood to spout from a ghastly wound in the breast.

The origin of the tragedy dates immediately from the destruction of the dam belonging to Greene which caused the death by drowning, of his little daughter and her playmate Edan Cochran.

Subsequent to the destruction of the Green dam, the dam of Burnett was also destroyed and when Burnett came to the city yesterday, it was with the intention of going to his ranch to investigate.

Green left the city yesterday evening in his buggy accompanied by Sheriff White, bound for the ranch. He returned again this morning and nothing unusual was observed in his demeanor before the shooting occured.

A Prospector reporter visited Green in the sheriff's office a few minutes after the shooting and asked him if he had any statement to make. He said: "I have no statement to make other than that man was the cause of my child being drowned. I ascertained beyond the shadow of a doubt that he was the guilty man, and when I thought of my little girl as she put her arms around my neck on the day she was drowned, I could think of nothing but vengeance on the man who caused her death. I have lived in this territory twenty-five years and have always been a peaceable, law-abiding man, I held no animosity and have no regret for anything except the death of my little girl, and the little Cochran girl and the grief of my poor wife." He added, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord."

Mr. Green came into the Prospector office on the 28th ult. and had a notice inserted in the paper offering a reward of $1000 for proof of the identity of the person who destroyed his dam and thereby caused the death by drowning of his daughter and her little companion. He said very little at the time, but seemed deeply affected and showed signs of grief.

The most important witness sworn was John Montgomery who testified that when Mr. Green came into town with Scott White, he came to his stable and asked that his team be put up and also left his pistol with him. "I locked it up, and later, just before the shooting, probably two hours later, he asked me if there was anyone working in Hart's shop, I told him there was; he intimated to me his pistol needed repairs and he wanted to have it repaired. I started to get it for him as the room was occupied at that time, and I told him he would have to wait a few minutes before I could get it. He talked of the weather a few minutes, about rain, then I got a chair for him to sit down until I could get the pistol; he sat down. Perhaps five or ten minutes after he spoke about the pistol, I went and got it for him. I gave it to him and he had apparently started, as I supposed, for the shop; but he did not put it in his pocket as far as I saw, he turned around the corner of the office and accused Jim Burnett of having his (Green's) dam blown up; the words I don't remember. Burnett made denial in words which I do not remember, and just then there were three shots fired one immediately after the other by Wm. Green, I saw him with his pistol in his hand. I saw him elevate the pistol and three shots immediately followed. There was another I think after Burnett fell. Burnett came through the front door of the office, apparently very badly wounded, went on the sidewalk, probably forty feet, more or less, and then fell. Burnett had been sitting for some time in the inside of the office I heard no words of Burnett except the disclamer to the accusation of Green.

The jury of inquest found that the deceased came to his death by a pistol shot wounds inflicted by William C. Green.—Prospector.

RELEASED.

George Cluff Released from the Pen Yesterday and Returned to-day.

After spending a week in the penitentiary, George Cluff is again out on bonds, and at home.

As stated last week he was taken to Yuma by the sheriff. As soon as he had gone his Messrs. McGowan and McCollum, his attorneys, commenced working for his release. Last Saturday Mr. McGowan went before Chief Justice Baker, at Phoenix and asked for a certificate of probable cause for appeal. After a careful consideration of the matter Judge Baker granted the certificate, which was intended to stay the execution of the sentence pending the action of the supreme court. On his return from Phœnix Mr. McGowan saw Judge Rouse in Tucson and asked him to fix the bail.

Judge Rouse came to Solomonville on Tuesday and on Wednesday issued an order to the superintendent of the Territorial prison, directing him to turn George Cluff over to the sheriff of Graham county, and for the sheriff to return him to Grahan county, and fixed his bonds at $750. The papers were placed in Sheriff Birchfield's hands on Wednesday and he started for Yuma the same day, and returned with Mr. Cluff this morning.

In the mean time a bond had been prepared and approved by Clerk of the Court Adams, in the absence of Judge Rouse, who returned to Tucson Wednesday evening, and Mr. Cluff was given his liberty immediately upon his arrival at Solomonville.

F. J. NETHERTON KILLED,

His Skull Crushed by a Fall From a Horse.

Prof. F. J. Netherton was killed at Mesa city last Thursday by a fall from a horse. Mr. Netherton had lately bought an interest in a meat market at Mesa. He was assisting in driving a lot of cattle from the country to the market. The cattle turned back at the outskirts of the town and Mr. Netherton rode rapidly after them. The horse he was riding was trained to drive cattle, so that when a cow turned suddenly the horse stopped as suddenly or swerved and the rider was thrown to the ground, striking his forehead. The contact was so violent that the frontal bone was crushed. The injured man was insensible for a short time, but recovered consciousness, and Dr. H. A. Hughes was summoned from Phœnex. Mr. Netherton lived only a few hours after the accident.

He was 32 years of age and unmarried. He was born in Contra Costa county, California, where his father still resides. He came to Arizona nine years ago and was almost immediately elected principal of the Mesa schools. He was connected with the Gazette for a short time in 1891 and later became one of the promoters of the Mesa Free Press. He held his position in the Mesa schools until four years ago. Governor Hughes appointed him territorial superintendent of public instruction, which position he filled with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of the people. He held this position until the change of the territorial administration, after that he was elected principal of the schools at Yuma, lately closing his service there.

Prof. Netherton did a great deal in the promotion of education throughout the Territory. Wherever his services were needed in his official copacity, there he was always found.

His many friends in this county will regret to learn that a young life, with so many bright prospects before it has been so suddenly extinguished.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

COXEY might secure the side show and red lemonade privilege for Debb's co-operative march to the West.

IT'S the color of the explosive fire-cracker which permits the remark that it, too, when it goes on a blow-out, paints the town red.

MR. FORAKER did not attend the convention of the Ohio Republicans. He remained in Washington to sit up with the tariff bill. In the autumn he will go to Ohio to sit up with Mr. Hanna.

THE New York Sun says: "The Hon. Thomas E. Watson, of Thomson, Ga., who is stepping to the helm of things once more without any very pressing invitation from anybody but himself, remarks with conviction that "free silver is itself too small an issue on which to appeal to the people." Consequently he is about to offer himself as an issue of the right size, and to surround himself with the initiative and referedum and other new attractive goods. Mr. Watson makes a very comfortable party himself, but when he wraps himself up in the initiative and referendum and lets his bright bronze hair shine like a beacon upon the Middle-of-the-Road, he becomes not merely an ornament, but a happiness. His convention or conference at Nashville next week will be watched with jealous eyes by his innumerable rivals, whether they belong to the middle or side of the road or to the ditch.

WHEN a firm is in the heyday of its prosperity, when business is good and competition not felt, it is no unusual thing for an advertising solictior to be informed that the concern is so well known and its business already so extensive that advertising is a useless expenditure of money. We have known a number to argue in this way. In almost every instance where this has happened we have seen younger competitors, by judicious advertising and push, pass them in the race for business. Then these concerns that were too well known to advertise would awake to the situation and their advertisements would again appear, but while they were sleeping their wide-awake competitors must necessarily have made inroads into their business, which, with fair treatment and business-like methods, they will hold. Let the largest house in any line stop advertising and note in what incredibly short space of time a larger business will be built up by somebody who works while they sleep.—Williams News.

OUT at Toledo Hanna is swearing eternal fealty to Bushnell and Bushnell to Hanna, but neither is willing that the other shall select a chairman of the Republican State committee. Rendered into plain English this means that Hanna expects Foraker and Bushnell to sacrifice the Legislature to re-elect Bushnell, and that they expect Hanna to give the whole State ticket the dump to save himself.

The probability is that both will be compelled to drop the particular favorites for State chairman and accept a compromise field marshal that can't be trusted to play fair.

The bitter struggle of the Ohio Republican factions for control of the party organization indicts that Ohio politics are going to be of the red hot variety this fall, and that those most interested want to be in position to look out for themselves and let the devil take the hindmost.—Philadelphia Times.

CRUSHING HOME INDUSTRIES.

The Philadelphia Times, a Democratic, gold bug organ, that supported the Republican ticket last fall repents of its sins in the following wail:

"Do not the Republican leaders in Congress see by this time that the tariff is being shaped entirely to satisfy monopoly and political interests? If they do not see it, they must be stone blind; if they do see it, they are submitting to the most onerous and dangerous form of taxation that can invite only political revolution in the near future.

The wool schedule as adopted by either house is simply a movement to crush some of the most important home industries of the country. The theory of imposing a high tax upon carpet wools, not a pound of which was ever grown in this country or ever can be grown here, can mean neither more nor less than crushing out the carpet industries of the country, which are largely centered in this city. It is protection run mad to tax wool that we cannot grow, in the vain hope of protecting our wool growers, who furnish a quality that cannot be used as a substitute in our carpet industry. In short, the wool schedule as approved by either branch simply means crushing out an important home industry and crippling many others.

Another and even more flagrant effort to crush out one of the great industries of this country was a proposition adopted in the Republican Senate caucus a few days ago to impose a tariff tax upon hides. It was done in obedience to the demands of the Cattle Trust, and there is not a Senator or Representative who urges this tax who does not know that he is simply serving one of the most oppressive monopolies of the country. Some may be deceived, but others must certainly have an interest in thus demanding legislation for the benefit of the Cattle Trust while taxing the whole 70,000,000 of people for their shoes and crippling our leather industry, that has grown up not only to supply the whole country with the cheapest and best shoes ever made, but now exports nearly $20,000,000 a year.

Unless protection is to be made so odious that the people must reject it absolutely, the Republican leaders in the present Congress must at once set their faces like flint against legislation for monopoly and political interests, which can result only in crushing important industries in the nation Thus far there has been no honest attempt to make an honest tariff, and monopoly and politics have dominated every important movement in shaping the new tariff bill. Will not the Republican leaders be admonished in time?

THE Lordsburg Liberal gives an account of a recent attempt of deputy sheriff Clark, of this county to round in a gang of cattle thieves, who had taken refuge in Grant county, New Mexico. It says that whenever Grant county criminals have taken refuge in Graham county our officers have always aided the New Mexico officers to arrest the criminals. Mr. Hart, in this instance had followed a number of "rustlers" over there and had them located; had a posse with him sufficiently strong to capture the whole outfit, but being in New Mexico he must have a New Mexico official with him in order to make his acts legal. He telephoned Sheriff McAfee, explaining the situation, and asked for one of his deputies to be sent up, said he did not need any assistance to make the arrest, simply wanted the deputy to be present to legalize his acts. The Liberal says the sheriff refused the aid and predicts that it will be a long time before Graham county officers will assist Grant officers to capture New Mexico criminals who have taken refuge in Graham county. In this the Liberal is mistaken. While there is no justification for the act of sheriff McAfee, our officers are not the sort who give shelter to the criminal class, and if a Grant county criminal should escape into Graham county, our officers would humiliate the Grant county sheriff, not by refusing aid, but by exerting every energy to place the criminals under arrest.

I have just received a carload of sugar. Come and get your sugar to put up your fruit with while it is cheap at J. T. Owens. 6-25-tf.

THOSE CONTEMPT CASES.

The last of the sugar contempt trial cases has been concluded; Broker McCartney being discharged from arrest. Judge Bradley has made a clean sweep of these cases, holding that Senator Allen's questions were not pertinent, and that he had no right to ask them. Allen, coming from a prairie state, from the wild and wooly West, does not part his hair in the middle, and when it comes down to genuine eastern justice as admininistered in our courts, is not in it by a little bit. The people may think he is right, he may think he is right himself, but who are the people and who is he?

If the courts of this country can nullify the action of a co-ordinate branch of the Government, and deny them the right to investigate subjects pertaining to the action of their own members, the Senate had better sell out, quit business, and let some Judge go to Washington and administer the Government and make laws. Out West Allen is considered considerable of a man; he is broad minded; a jurist of long standing; but it seems from the decisions made in these sugar cases, that he has been very much over-rated. If these cases had been tried before a Justice of the Peace, a trembling world stands aghast at what might have been the possible result.

EDITORIAL BONBONS.

McKinley is probably conscious that he is losing ground, but he will not regain it by annexing new territory.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

General Weyler should import a few Populists to quiet the populace who dislikes to accept his paper money.—Atlanta Journal.

The prospect of an early passage of the tariff bill is pleasing to business men, however little they may be pleased with the provisions of the new law.—Boston Globe.

It is to be hoped that the Prince of Wales made the most of this diamond jubilee, as the chances are very much against his ever having one of his own.—Washington Star.

The United States Senate must find some difficulty in recognizing itself amid the complimentary things that are being said of it for rapid progress on the tariff bill.—Indianapolis Journal.

Bob Ingersoll can fill a lecture hall to overflowing in almost any city in the land, but the fact that Bob is the most popular man on the lecture platform might not avail him as a candidate for President.—Omaha Bee.

The English may boast of the superior stability of their institutions, which permit the chief personage of the realm to hold office for sixty years without a break but they miss a good deal of fun in thus discarding the American periodical campaign system.—Baltimore American.

ANOTHER postponment by Reed is extra proof to the members that it is he and not they who count in this House of Representatives.

Foreign Notes of Real Interest.

Three Berlin artists, Max Liebermann, the head of the naturalistic school; Richard Friese, the animal painter, and Peter Breuer, the sculptor, are the recipients of the large gold medal for distinction in art conferred by Kaiser Wilhelm this year.

An East End of London clergyman, who sent out invitations to a jubilee banquet among the poor of his parish and received seventy acceptance, on announcing that he would have no beer lost fifty-three of his guests and was besides guyed by the newspapers.

From Lourdes comes the tale of the miraculous cure of a young woman of 23, who had been paralyzed since she was three years of age. She could neither sit upright nor turn in her bed without assistance, nor could she walk a step without support. After two baths at Lourdes she was able to walk as easily as anyone, and astonished the people of Fougeres by walk-through the town on Ascension Day.

Alfalfa as a Soiling Crop.

Alfalfa is one of the very best soiling crops. It may be fed in this way to better advantage than if the stock are pastured on the field. Cattle and sheep cannot be safely pastured on alfalfa, particularly when it is young and tender, or after there has been a heavy dew or rain. They are likely to bloat if fed with green or wet alfalfa. Horses and hogs are not affected in this way. The loss of sheep and cattle from tympanitis, hoven, or bloat, as it is called, is very great every year, and, though a herd may go through an entire season without loss, it is never perfectly safe to permit it to depasture the alfalfa, writes J. G. Smith in Field and Farm.

By a proper arrangement of feeding pens and corrals alongside or near the field, the method of soiling—that is mowing the alfalfa and feeding it in a partially wilted condition—is a cheap and perfectly safe one. The additional cost and labor of cutting the crop and hauling it to the feeding pens will be less than the loss that will be sustained if several head of stock die of bloat during the season. Young horses will make a very rapid growth if pastured on alfalfa, especially if supplemented by the daily addition of a small feed of oats. One of the disadvantages of depasturing alfalfa is that the soil soon becomes trampled and hard, and for this reason the roots are not able to make a sufficiently strong growth, and the field is sure to deteriorate.

One acre of alfalfa will furnish forage for from ten to twenty hogs a season. There is no cheaper or better way of producing pork than to allow growing pigs to run in a field of alfalfa. At a conservative estimate ten pigs to an acre will gain 100 pounds each during the season from May to September, and 1,000 pounds of pork can not be produced so cheaply on any other feed. The pigs will come out of the field in autumn in capital condition to fatten with corn or small grain. The alfalfa in a hog pasture should be mowed once or twice during the summer, or whenever it begins to get hard and woody. This will provide plenty of young and tender herbage, which is more nutritious, weight for weight, than forage from the older plants, and if the swine are provided with this food in its most nutritious condition, their growth will be most rapid. They need to be provided with an abundance of fresh or running water in the pastures.

ESTABLISHED FACTS.

Concerning Graham County, Which are Well Worth Serious Consideration by those Seeking new Homes, or Men Seeking Profitable Investment for Capital.

The agricultural resources of the Gila valley are both varid and extensive, comprising an area of arable land of which there is at present tributary to canals and ditches, 40,000 acres which is capable of being irrigated. The principal products are alfalfa, wheat, corn, barley, oats, vegetables, decidious and certain classes of citrus fruits.

This is the natural home of alfalfa, of which from 4 to 5 crops are grown yearly, yielding from 5 to 8 tons per acre. It is not as stocky as that which comes from the Salt River valley and is preferable for either horses or cattle.

Wheat, barley and oats grow prolificly, the former containing a very large amount of nutrition. Yellow dent, white gourd and other large varieties of corn yield productively, vegetables are large and solid and come to maturity two months earlier than in the eastern and middle states.

The valley and hill lands are adapted to all of the products of the temperal zone, and many of the fruits of the semi-tropical countries. The apples equal in size and flavor the prize winners of the eastern states. The seedling fruits are unexcelled in size and general excellence. Apricots and apples both grow with a surprising rapidity. The peaches in appearance and taste are identical with those which come from the famous orchards of New Jersey.

Canagrie grows wild, some of the tubers being as large as good sized potatoes. Tests now show that canagrie root, which flourishes near Thomas, in the lower portion of the valley, contains a larger per cent of tannic acid than any ever sent to the extract works from either Arizona or New Mexico.

Farming lands can be purchased at from $50 to $100 per acre, including improvements and water rights.

Uncultivated land without water right is free to any settler under the United States homestead law. This class of farms will eventually become valuable when the canal facilities have been increased.

The cost of maintaining the canals which are owned by the farmers varies from 30 cts. to $1.00 per acre per year.

The following are the market values of the products of the soil at the ranch, there being ready sale for everything raised in the valley.

Wheat	$1.35 per cental.
Barley	1.25 " "
Corn	1.00 " "
Hay	6.00 to $8 per ton.
Hogs	4 cts per pound
Apples	5 " " "
Potatoes	3 " " "
Cattle from	$11 to $18 delivered in Safford.
Milk cows	$25.00 to $30.00

There is at present about 118 miles of irrigating canals and main ditches, not including the latteral ditches which will make the total several times this amount. This gives ample water to assure crops for about 45,000 acres. When the Enterprise canal is finished it will water several thousand acres of rich table and bottom land. It has been estimated that a quarter of million acres of additional land could be irrigated if storage dams were built. This could be done in several places, notably at the narrows about 18 miles from Safford where a box canyon exists through which the river passes. It is from this point the Enterprise company are building their canal.

Graham county covers an area of 7,000 square miles.

The Gila valley is 35 miles from the narrows to the edge of the reservation, with an average width of bottom lands of two miles, the distance between the foot hills being six miles. The valley is flanked on the north by the Gila mountains and on the south by the Graham mountains, Mount Graham being the highest peak, with an altitude of ten thousand feet above sea level.

Although but little prospecting has been done in either the Gila or Graham mountains, the few properties which have been developed show that the ore body is practically inexhaustable; while copper predominates, there is both gold and silver in paying quantities It is a virgin field for both the minor and captatist and one which promises grand results.

The two principal mining companies are the Detroit, at Morenci, and the Arizona Copper Company, at Clifton. The former employes 300 men and the latter 600.

The output of the Arizona comp, any is 20 tons of copper per day and of the Detroit about 10 tons per day. These two companies alone pay out for labor about $600,000 annually.

Experts are at present prospecting near Saffoad for coal.

There are twenty-five schools, and one Academy in Graham county. The examination for teachers is very strict; only those who are thoroughly qualified being able to procure certificates. 12 churches of different denominations look after the spritual welfare of the community. Society is as refined here as in any of the old eastern cities.

BRAND RECORDING.

Of Interest and Importance to Every Cattleman in Arizona.

It is of the greatest importance to cattlemen of Arizona that they should know of the provisions of the late law with reference to brand recording, and after knowing the provisions, proceed without unnecessary delay to comply with the law.

The new law makes it compulsory that all brands be recorded in the office of the Live Stock Sanitary Board instead of with the county recorders of the several counties, which county record books have been done away with in so far as they constitute a public record.

Those who had their brands on county record will request the county recorder, either in person or by letter, to make out a certificate of such brands on blanks furnished the recorders. For this they pay a fee of 25 cents to the recorder. The certificate is signed by the owner of the brand or his agent, as the case may be, after which it is sent to the office of the secretary of the Sanitary Board at Phœnix. It should be understood in this connection that no brand or mark shall be changed after the certificate has been signed by the recorder, and his seal affixed. Such changes can be made, but on another blank which will be furnished by the secretary on request.

All brands which have niver been recorded heretofore will have to go to public record under the present law, and, for which purpose blanks will be furnished by the Secretary. This referes to horses as well as cattle; if you have ten different brands on your ranch, you should have them recorded if you desire to be secured in the use of the brand. It is an erroneous idea that only the brand kept up need be placed on record.

If you have other brands, and which from your failing to record, do not appear on such record as taken by anyone, the same will be allowed to the first applicant who may apply for such brand, in which case it might work to the serious disadvantage of the first or original owner of cattle in such brand.

It is intended to be and certainly will be an advantage to every cattleman in Arizona, and to that end all are urged to take advantage of the provision at the earliest possible moment.

Remember, brands do not have to be burnt on leather as of old. A simple filling out of a blank will be all that is required, which blank the county recorder will furnish if your brand has been recorded. If it has not been on record request a blank from the Secretary at Phœnix.

In all cases of brands which have been on county record, a fee of 25 cents is paid to the recorder of the county. In all other cases the fee is $1 for each and every brand, payable by ceck or money order to the Sanitary Board, and must accompany the application. This covers the cost of recording and a certificate under the seal of the board.

The reader will confer a favor both on his fellowman and the Sanitary Board by making this as widely known as possible. The better plan perhaps would be to clip this out and carry it in your pocket, where it can easily be referred to.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chihowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guarnteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Sold by all dealers in medicine.*

Food at Samoa.

FOGATULI, SAVAII, SAMOA, May 20th, 1897.

EDITOR GUARDIAN:—"Ulu" is a Samoan word meaning bread-fruit, perhaps receiving its English apellation from its analogy to bread or dough. The trees that produce this fruit grow from thirty to sixty feet high with wide spreading branches, bearing a very large leaf, perhaps 12x18 inches. These tropical trees spring up almost spontaneously and bear some four crops a year, and were it possible for the women of the United States to step outside their doors and pluck from the umbrageous trees of their yards their bread ready kneaded and prepared for the oven and other viands with the same degree of trouble, as we do here, they perhaps would have more time to stand up for their alleged rights—"Woman's Suffrage." More especially would this be the case if like in Samoa, men do the cooking.

There are many varieties of bread-fruit, and the fruit varies in size from one to ten pounds. The natives generally bake or roast their bread-fruit in an oven of small heated stoves well covered with bread-fruit and banna leaves, and when cooked it is like (so far as color is concerned) the "new wife's biscuts," some are light, nearly white, while others are a rich yellow. Perhaps dame nature used to much salaratus in preparing them. "Taufolo," (Swallow continually,) is made from the bread-fruit; this delicious dish is prepared by first roasting the "ulu" in an open fire, when thoroughly cooked and while yet to hot to handle, the skin or rind is peeled off with long sticks or pokers, the core is then removed and cast away, and the balance is placed in a large wooden bowl and thoroughly mashed up until it becomes to the consistency of stiff dough and looks just like it, then expressed cocoanut juice, salted with sea water is poured over the hot mass, then one young man bears the dish along, followed by a gang of colleagues, shouting and yelling until a stranger might be led to believe that Beelzebub's lower brimbstone region had broke loose, but not so with the Samoans! To them it is a signal—get ready for your por tion before it gets cold! Does the young man who dishes it out roll up his sleeves? Oh, on! not a bit of it, for he wears no sleeves for the want of a shirt to fasten them to, but he dives his two hands in and in a very few minutes he has the mass divided up into small dumplings, just large enough to take down at a gulph, it is then dished out by the double handful into a bread-fruit leaf which serves for a plate; the natives then swoop it down without removing the dish from thier mouths until the last dumpling has followed its illfated companions; cence the name "Taufolo" (folo—to swallow, tau, continually.)

"MASI."

Another article of food made from the bread-fruit and held in reserve for time of famine, is called by the natives "Masi" by the forigners "Cake." It is prepared in the following manner: They dig a hole about four feet deep, this is carefully lined with banana leaves, allowing the ends to lap three or four feet over the edge of the hole, the fruit is then plucked chucked into the pit without further preparation. Now the projecting leaves are carefully lapped over the pit and the whole weighted down with a number of large stones, in this condition it is alowed to pass through a fermentation and is soon converted into a mass or lump of dough. In this condition it remains undisturbed for an indefinate time, and is not unearthed until time of famine. On opening the pit it emits a very disagreeable odor, which wafted on the breeze scents the whole village for miles around. They remove it from the pit by degrees as they use it and either roll it out into flat cakes or in balls like biscuits, and after wraping it in banana leaves it is baked in the oven with the balance of the food, giving the whole oven of food a strong smell and taste of "masi." When baked it is of a dirty brown color and very heavy and soggy. Some foreigners learn to eat it with a relish, others, more delicate, have merely to "take a smell" and leave with their appetite appeased.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM A. MOODY.

FRIDAY JULY 9, 1897

LATE EDITORIAL.

For President 1900,

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.

On the 1st of July Chas. Akers was sworn in as secretary of the Territory and took charge of affairs at once.

The Board of Equalization is now in session, equalizing this year's assessment roll. All who have a kick coming had better get inside the ropes before the 20th of the present month, because the board will not be in session after that date.

The Western trip of Hon. W. J. Bryan will assist the cause of silver, in a degree so great, difficult at this time to calculate. His reception everywhere must be highly gratifying to himself and the great mass of people, who believe in the cause he represents.

The Range News in a mild yet firm tone rounds up the bull tick stock board for its failure to pay for strays sold. That board ought to be recast and remodeled with such a man as Hon. Burt Dunlap as its chairman. Burt has the confidence of the stockmen, he is honest and understands the stock interests of the territory as well as any stockman in Arizona.—Star.

We understand that Frank Dysart is an applicant for clerk of the district court, and will no doubt receive the appointment. He was clerk of the same court during Judge Sloan's and Judge Kibbey's incumbency in this district and gave complete satisfaction. Frank is a Republican through and through and if Judge Doan is going to repay party fealty, he will be appointed.

The five indictments pending at Santa Fe, New Mexico, against J. A. Peralta Reaves, were on Wednesday last, on motion of Attorney Reynolds, dismissed by Judge Laughlin. In another year or two the great land thief will be basking in the sunshine of liberty and fattening on his ill gotten wealth. His original sentence for attempting to steal a state was but five years in the penitentiary, whereas if some poor half starved devil had stolen a two bit hog in Arizona the law stands ready to send him to the pen for ten years. This is the same kind of a law that too often sits in judgment between the rich and the poor.—Tucson Citizen.

We wish to call the attention of the Bulletin to the fact that it is neglecting one of its most important duties. There is a chance to "jack some one up" and it has failed to do it. Last year it called the editor of the Guardian all kinds of fools for the position we took as to the way school money should be apportioned. It criticised the principle on which the money was being apportioned unmercyfully and alluded to it several times as a dishonest method. We always contended that unless the Board of Supervisors provided the necessary money the County Superintendent could not make the apportionments according to the Bulletin's idea. If the whole amount of money falls short so must the districts in their proportion. The same principle followed by the former superintendent and all other superintendents throughout the Territory is being followed by our present superintendent, and we contend that he is right. We simply call Bro. Kelly's attention to this so that he can get into the line of his duty, for we fear that should he not find it out until it was too late to kick he would die of lumbago.

The Chicago Tribune of July 4th, in discussing the question of the annexation of Hawaii, says:

"Secretary of State Sherman has made a definate reply to the protest of Japan against the annexation of Hawaii by the United States. In the course of the reply the Secretary gives the Japanese government some much needed information as to the effect of annexation upon treaties and the rights which the subjects of one country may acquire in another under treaty or the law of the land. He lays down the fundamental proposition of international usage that the existing treaties of a State cease when that State is merged into another. To enforce his point the Secretary cites numerous illustrations, such as the incorporation of Hanover into the Prussian kingdom, the admission of Texas to the union as a State, the annexation of Madagascar to France, and the cession of Alsace and Lorraine by France to Germany, in each of which instances all existing treaties in the annexed States ceased to exist. And he adds: "It needs no stipulation in a formal annexation treaty to work this result, for it attends de facto annexation however accomplished." This should settle the matter and end not only Japan's bluster so far as this country is concerned but its menaces to Hawaii. If the Senate ratifies the treaty the United States will at once enter upon possession and Japan can have no ground for valid complaint. Should the Senate, however, fail to ratify, even then this country cannot stand quietly by and tolerate any hostile act of Japan against Hawaii. Even though the islands may not be annexed to the United States, this country is still bound by its own interests to protect Hawaii against all foreign interference. The easiest way to do that is to take it at once and administer it. Nine-tenths of its trade is American, and it is our natural Pacfic midway station.

Why don't the business men of Safford organize a commercial club? It may seem to some as a foolish notion, but some day they will see their mistake. A commercial club is a power in any community, and one should be organized here.

Killing of Tadeo Herrera.

The Tribune says that a man named Tadeo Herrera was shot and killed in a saloon at Florence last week by a man named Hilario Del Ci.

They had been drinking together all night, and the murder was the culmination of a drunken row over who should treat between two men who had apparently been friends. It began with words and Del Ci knocked Herrera down; then as he lay on the floor the assassin pulled a pistol and shot, the ball passing through the intestines, causing death in 24 hours.

After the shooting Del Di escaped through the back door of the saloon and made his way on horseback towards Adamsville, near which place he was captured by Charley Foreman and M. M. Hickey, after an exciting chase of nearly three miles.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficent command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering.

In June, 1864, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began ueing the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured. For sale by all dealers in medicine. *
